IN THE 322nd DISTRICT COURT OF TARRANT COUNTY, TEXAS

IN THE INTEREST OF M.E.M., C.R.M., two children)
MORGAN MICHELLE MYERS

Petitioner,

CHARLES DUSTIN MYERS,

MOTION TO STRIKE THE INTERVENTION
OF THE OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Respondent.

TO THE HONORABLE COURT:

The Respondent in the above styled cause, CHARLES DUSTIN MYERS, (“the Respondent”) respectfully moves to STRIKE the involvement of the Office of the Attorney General, specifically the designated attorney of record, Holly L. Hayes, from the matter. This request is supported by the forthcoming reasons:

I. INTRODUCTION

The Office of the Attorney General (“the OAG”) filed an intervention pleading on June 28, 2024, designating “Holly Hayes” as the attorney of record.  ¹

¹  indicates an active link to a true and correct copy of the referenced document as maintained on the official re:SearchTX Electronic Filing Manager. Login may be required.

As clarified in Guaranty Federal Sav. Bank v. Horseshoe Operating Co., 793 S.W.2d 652 (Tex. 1990), "the party who opposed the intervention has the burden to challenge it by a motion to strike." Here, the Respondent is challenging the OAG's involvement in this matter and requests clarification on their role in the litigation. By following clearly established Texas precedent and utilizing the

II. LEGAL ANALYSIS

The right to intervene in Texas is governed primarily by Rule 60 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. This rule provides that: "Any party may intervene by filing a pleading, subject to being stricken out by the court for sufficient cause on the motion of any party." In re R.M., No. 05-18-01127-CV (Tex. App. May 24, 2019); Smith v. City of Garland, 523 S.W.3d 234 (Tex. App. 2017); R. Hassell & Co. v. Springwoods Realty Co., NO. 01-17-00154-CV (Tex. App. Apr 19, 2018).

This rule establishes that while intervention is permitted as a matter of right, it is not absolute and remains subject to judicial oversight. The Texas Supreme Court has clarified that Rule 60 "authorizes a party with a justiciable interest in a pending suit to intervene in the suit as a matter of right." In re Union Carbide Corp., 273 S.W.3d 152, 154 (Tex. 2008). However, this right is balanced against the court's obligation to ensure the efficient administration of justice.

A. The Justiciable Interest Requirement

For an intervention to be sustained, the intervenor must demonstrate a "justiciable interest" in the pending suit. This requirement serves as a threshold that must be met before a court will allow an outside party to join ongoing litigation. According to Texas courts, an intervenor has a justiciable interest in a lawsuit "when his interests will be affected by the litigation." Brown v. Freed, 03-21-00556-CV (Tex. App. May 10, 2023). This interest may be

"legal or equitable in nature." Brown v. Freed (Tex. App. Aug. 1, 2023) (citing Mendez v. Brewer, 626 S.W.2d 498, 499 (Tex. 1982)).

B. Procedure for Challenging an Intervention

An important procedural aspect of Rule 60 is that an intervenor is not required to secure the court's permission before intervening. Rather, "the party who opposed the intervention has the burden to challenge it by a motion to strike." Guaranty Federal Sav. Bank v. Horseshoe Operating Co., 793 S.W.2d 652 (Tex. 1990); Musick v. Zamora, 03-21-00555-CV (Tex. App. Apr 27, 2023) (citing Guaranty Fed., 793 S.W.2d at 657).

Once a motion to strike is filed, "the burden shifts to the intervenor to show a justiciable interest in the lawsuit." R. Hassell & Co. v. Springwoods Realty Co., NO. 01-17-00154-CV (Tex. App. Apr 19, 2018) (citing Union Carbide, 273 S.W.3d at 155); In re R.M., No. 05-18-01127-CV (Tex. App. May 24, 2019) (citing In re Union Carbide Corp., 273 S.W.3d 152, 155 (Tex. 2008)).

C. Burden on the OAG

Because a motion to strike has now been filed in this case, the burden would shift to the OAG to demonstrate a justiciable interest in the litigation sufficient to overcome concerns about delay or prejudice. As established in In re R.M., No. 05-18-01127-CV (Tex. App. May 24, 2019) and R. Hassell & Co. v. Springwoods Realty Co., NO. 01-17-00154-CV (Tex. App. Apr 19, 2018), "the intervenor bears the burden to demonstrate a justiciable interest in the pending suit."

Here, the OAG would need to articulate how its interests will be affected by the litigation and why its continued involvement is necessary despite its lack of action. If the OAG cannot demonstrate a sufficient justiciable interest, or if the court determines that any such interest is outweighed by the delay or prejudice being caused, the court would have grounds to strike the intervention.

III. APPLICATION

The three-pronged test established in Guaranty Federal Savings Bank v. Horseshoe Operating Co., 793 S.W.2d 652, 657 (Tex. 1990) provides a framework for this analysis. An intervenor must show that (1) it could have brought the same action, or any part thereof, in its own name, or if the action had been brought against it, it would be able to defeat recovery; (2) the intervention will not complicate the case by an excessive multiplication of the issues; and (3) the intervention is almost essential to effectively protect the intervenor's interest.

This framework should be applied within the instant matter in the court's determination of whether to strike the intervention of the Office of the Attorney General. In the pleading itself, attached as Exhibit A, the OAG is ambiguous regarding its' claims. The uncertainty surrounding the "prior proceedings" referenced, the request for the court to "enter appropriate orders", and the mismatched signature line all point to the OAG not having a legitimate interest in the matter. When coupled with their lack of activity or participation in the case, a response should be requested to clarify their involvement.

In the interest of judicial economy, the Respondent objects to any settings on this matter until the Office of the Attorney General furnishes a written response.

CONCLUSION AND PRAYER

For all the reasons stated herein, the Respondent, CHARLES DUSTIN MYERS, respectfully requests that this Honorable Court:

1. Request a response from Holly Hayes, and request that she demonstrate a justiciable interest in this matter and clarify the undue delay lack of participation in the proceedings;

2. If a justiciable interest cannot be demonstrated or if a response is not filed by a future date deemed appropriate by the Court, order that the intervention pleading from the Office of the Attorney General naming Holly Hayes as counsel be stricken from the record;
3. Grant any other relief that the Court deems just and proper under the circumstances.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Charles Dustin Myers

NO. 322-744263-23

IN THE 322ND DISTRICT COURT OF TARRANT COUNTY, TEXAS

Morgan Michelle Myers,

Petitioner,

v.

OBJECTION TO TITLE-IV INTERVENTION

Charles Dustin Myers,

Respondent

2024-06-30

TO THE HONORABLE JAMES MUNFORD OF THE 322ND DISTRICT COURT OF TARRANT COUNTY:

- In this document, "the Couple" refers collectively to the Petitioner and Respondent.

The Respondent respectfully objects to the Title-IV Agency intervention for the foregoing reasons:

I. BACKGROUND

1. In January of 2021, the decision to pursue a career from home came from a deep desire within the Respondent to provide a dual role for his Children – being that of a provider and a caregiver. Leading up to that point, the Couple had alternated roles in providing for their children: one parent worked to support the family financially while the other assumed a full-time caretaker role. However, this decision ended up being in the best interest of the children.

2. The harmonious arrangement was greatly facilitated by the support of Margie and Jesse Wilson—next-door neighbors, landlords, and great-grandparents to the children involved in this case. The Wilsons provided a stable and affordable home at a discounted rental rate of $800 per month, laying a foundation for a nurturing and stable environment for the children. With regular, daily access to both parents and the added benefit of their great grandparents living next door on a tranquil cul-de-sac in Watauga—the children benefitted from a uniquely supportive and loving environment, which created an ideal situation for the children's growth and well-being.

3. The new arrangement afforded the Petitioner a significant amount of time, which she allocated to becoming more involved with the PTA, eventually becoming President. The Respondent continued to pursue growth and expand his knowledge in the fields of market finance, programming, SEC law, and legal transcription via Crowd Surf and similar platforms while both parents remained daily figures in all facets of their day-to-day lives.

II. STATUTORY PROTECTIONS

4. The Texas Family Code references “the best interest of the child” 109 times throughout its’ 1,627 pages. The word “always” appears just once – within Id § 153.002.

5. The language provided by Id – being unambiguous on its’ face – shows a clear requirement by the State to meet its’ statutory requirement:

"[t]he best interest of the child shall always be the primary consideration of the court in determining the issues of conservatorship and possession of and access to the child. " Id.

6. These statutory protections "...are [clearly] indicative of the wide discretion the Legislature has granted the courts to act when the best interest of the child would be served thereby." Lutheran Social Service, Inc. v. Meyers, 460 S.W.2d 887 (Tex. 1970). Despite this wide discretion, this court has chosen not to use it.

7. Long ago, in Holley V. Adams, 544 S.W.2d 367 (Tex. 1976) the Supreme Court of Texas provided this State with a non-exhaustive list of factors that the court may use in determining the best interest of the Child. Despite these factors, the court has taken into consideration none of them.

8. In more recent jurisprudence, the United States Supreme Court in Troxel v. Granville, 530 U.S. 57 (2000), affirmed that under the Fourteenth Amendment, parents have a fundamental right to direct the care, custody, and control of their children.

9. When contested issues are at hand, the Texas Family Code affords litigants with a reporter of record to preserve the ability to make an effective appeal. Id §105.003. This statutory mandate was ignored.

10. When a Petitioner waives the 60-day waiting period for divorce claiming an active order of protection exists against the Respondent, the Petitioner is required to attach the order to the Petition prior to any hearing. Id § 6.405(b). Despite no such order existing, no hearing should have ever taken place.

III. STATE INTERVENTION

11. On January 16th, 2024, the State simply did what it cannot do, and failed to offer the State mandated protections afforded by Id.

12. The decision rendered on 01/16/2024 was a de facto temporary termination of parental rights prior to any evidentiary hearing taking place.

13. The subsequent order rendered on 01/22/2024 by Judge Kaitcer prolonged the initial orders.

14. On February 1st, 2024, a settlement agreement was drafted by the Respondent's own legal counsel, who advised the Respondent to sign the agreement, resulting in his immediate termination and challenge of the original agreement on reconsideration. A true and accurate copy of this agreement has been attached hereto as Exhibit A.

15. A hearing wasn't scheduled until March 14th, 2024, due to delays by our friends on the other side, who have filed no opposition to any claims for relief made by the Respondent or allegations asserted. In fact, this was the only hearing that took place in this case.

16. Despite invoking the statutory protections mentioned above at the hearing, the court rendered temporary orders which were permitted to be reduced to writing outside of their own procedural requirements ordered by the same judge by an attorney who had no initial desire to represent the Petitioner in the first place.

17. Despite the hearing being contested, and notwithstanding the statutory requirement for the court to provide a court reporter in such cases, this requirement was once again ignored. This omission rendered it impossible to properly raise an objection to the deprivation, as the essential element needed to make the objection was not provided.

18. Given the State's initial failure to uphold its mandated requirements set forth in the Texas Family Code, any further State intervention would lead to and has led to the same failure giving the magnitude of the decision made at the onset.

19. This court has no facts regarding the decisions made affecting the parent-child relationship and therefore has not considered the best interest of the child.

IV. CONTINUOUS DEFECT

20. The last contact with the opposing counsel occurred on May 19th in response to a defective IWO regarding the relevance of the orders in question. A true and accurate copy of these emails has been attached hereto as Exhibit B.

A true and accurate copy of the defective IWO has been attached hereto as Exhibit C.

V. CONSENT

21. The consent from the Respondent is what this court relies on. Without it – there's no basis for any decision made. "Once the trial court renders an agreed judgment, a party may not withdraw his consent if the trial court was unaware of any objection at the time of rendition." In re D.S., 76 S.W.3d 512 (Tex. App. 2002); see First Heights Bank, FSB v. Marom, 934 S.W.2d 843 (Tex.App.-Houston [14th Dist.] 1996, no writ). In this instance, at the time of rendition, Judge Jeffrey Kaitcer was well aware of consent not being present at the time of rendition, but rendered them anyway.

VI. PREMATURITY

22. The intervention request made by the Title-IV Agency is premature. The case is currently pending review in the Supreme Court of Texas, and the Agency has no facts pertaining to this case as outlined in the language of their pleading.

23. Rather than intervening on an erroneous and fraudulently rendered temporary order prior to any factual understanding of the case - the agency should consider filing an amicus brief in support of the Respondent with the Supreme Court of Texas given the destruction caused by the State thus far – or request findings of fact and conclusions of law from the trial court. The State’s mandate to enforce and establish child support should come only second to and after affirmation that the current custodial arrangements are in the best interest of the child.

24. The Respondent timely requested findings of fact and conclusions of law regarding the current orders in question over 90 days ago which have yet to be answered.

VII. CONCLUSION

25. This request for intervention is another attempt by our friends on the other side to have the work which should already be on file with the court completed for them.

26. After seven months of litigation, our friends on the other side have done nothing but delay proceedings, file fraudulent and inaccurate pleadings, ignore civil procedure, and are now trying to enforce a void order rendered outside of their own procedural requirements.

27. The unacceptable negligence on behalf of Cooper L. Carter and the trial court as a whole all stems from the intentional, malicious, and deceptive pleadings filed by the Petitioner, and influenced by Daniel Branthoover, and Margie Wilson resulting in direct interference with the Respondent's constitutional rights.

28. No amount of child support can replace what this State and the Petitioner have willingly destroyed with the assistance of Cooper L. Carter, who should be required to disqualify herself from the case due to the inability to perform her duties competently. Given she was required to represent the Petitioner in the first place against her own wishes – the same requirement to withdrawal is appropriate here.

VIII. PRAYER

Respondent respectfully prays for the following:

1. Deny further state intervention until the facts of the case are before the court.
2. Provide findings of fact and conclusions of law for the orders in question as requested on March 26th, 2024, and how they are in the best interest of the Child.
3. Conduct any future hearings in the District Court furnished with a court reporter as mandated by the Texas Family Code.
4. Provide any other equitable relief the court deems necessary.

V. Remittance Information: (Completed by the Sender except for the "Return to Sender" check box.)

If the employee/obligor's principal place of employment is _____ (State/Tribe), you must begin withholding no later than the first pay period that occurs _____ days after the date of _____ of the order/notice. Send payment within _____ business days of the pay date. If you cannot withhold the full amount of support for any or all orders for this employee/obligor, withhold _____ % of disposable income for all orders. If the employee/obligor's principal place of employment is not _____ (State/Tribe), obtain withholding limitations, time requirements, the appropriate method to allocate among multiple child support cases/orders and any allowable employer fees from the jurisdiction of the employee/obligor's principal place of employment.

State-specific withholding limit information is available at www.acf.hhs.gov/css/resource/state-income-withholding-contacts-and-program-requirements. For tribe-specific contacts, payment addresses, and withholding limitations, please contact the tribe at www.acf.hhs.gov/sites/default/files/programs/css/tribal_agency_contacts_printable_pdf.pdf or www.bia.gov/tribalmap/DataDotGovSamples/tld_map.html.

You may not withhold more than the lesser of: 1) the amounts allowed by the Federal Consumer Credit Protection Act (CCPA) [15 USC §1673 (b)]; or 2) the amounts allowed by the law of the state of the employee/obligor's principal place of employment if the place of employment is in a state; or the tribal law of the employee/obligor's principal place of employment if the place of employment is under tribal jurisdiction. The CCPA is available at www.dol.gov/sites/dolgov/files/WHD/legacy/files/garn01.pdf. If the Order Information section does not indicate that the arrears are greater than 12 weeks, then the employer should calculate the CCPA limit using the lower percentage.

If there is more than one IWO against this employee/obligor and you are unable to fully honor all IWOs due to federal, state, or tribal withholding limits, you must honor all IWOs to the greatest extent possible, giving priority to current support before payment of any past-due support.

If the obligor is a nonemployee, obtain withholding limits from the Supplemental Information section in this IWO. This information is also available at www.acf.hhs.gov/css/resource/state-income-withholding-contacts-and-program-requirements.

VI. Additional Information for Employers/Income Withholders: (Completed by the Sender)

Priority: Withholding for support has priority over any other legal process under State law against the same income (section 466(b)(7) of the Social Security Act). If a federal tax levy is in effect, please notify the sender.

Payments: You must send child support payments payable by income withholding to the appropriate State Disbursement Unit or to a tribal CSE agency within 7 business days, or fewer if required by state law, after the date the income would have been paid to the employee/obligor and include the date you withheld the support from his or her income. You may combine withheld amounts from more than one employee/obligor's income in a single payment as long as you separately identify each employee/obligor's portion of the payment. Child support payments may not be made through the federal Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE) Child Support Portal.

Lump Sum Payments: You may be required to notify a state or tribal CSE agency of upcoming lump sum payments to this employee/obligor such as bonuses, commissions, or severance pay. Contact the sender to determine if you are required to report and/or withhold lump sum payments. Employers/income withholders may use OCSE's Child Support Portal (ocsp.acf.hhs.gov/csp/) to provide information about employees who are eligible to receive lump sum payments and to provide contacts, addresses, and other information about their companies. Child support payments may not be made through the federal OCSE Child Support Portal.

Liability: If you have any doubts about the validity of this IWO, contact the sender. If you fail to withhold income from the employee/obligor's income as the IWO directs, you are liable for both the accumulated amount you should have withheld and any penalties set by state or tribal law/procedure.

Anti-discrimination: You are subject to a fine determined under state or tribal law for discharging an employee/obligor from employment, refusing to employ, or taking disciplinary action against an employee/obligor because of this IWO.
