STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Nature of the Case:

The underlying suit is a divorce proceeding overseen by two separate Judges initiated by Mother which waived the 60-day waiting period due to an alleged active order of protection against the Father.App. 11 and was consolidated with a protective order claiming harassment and sexual harassment from the Realtor.App. 21.

Respondents:

Respondents are Hon. James Munford, presiding District Judge & Hon. Jeffrey N. Kaitcer, presiding Associate Judge of the 322nd District Court of Tarrant County, Texas.

Respondents' actions:

DJ Respondent ordered the Realtor to vacate his home and place of business at the initial show cause hearing on January 16th, 2024, effectively removing one parent from the Children's lives abruptly, without notice or hearing, and despite granting a continuance for the parties to obtain legal counsel.App. 70. AJ Respondent presided over the case beginning on the first reset date of January 22nd, 2024, where Mother failed to acquire Counsel until just minutes before the hearing, delaying the proceedings until February 1st, 2024,App. 72 where the Father was advised to sign an agreed order with no alternative option available at the time.App. 81-86. Father terminated his counsel and filed for reconsideration on February 8th, 2024, which AJ Respondent heard on March 14th, 2024.App. 177.

Statement of Jurisdiction

This Honorable Court has jurisdiction to issue a writ of mandamus under Section 22.221(b) of the Texas Government Code.

Issues Presented

Issue No. 1: DJ Respondent erred in rendering temporary orders affecting the parent-child relationship and for the preservation of the property on January 16th, 2024, without notice and hearing despite granting both parties a continuance to obtain legal counsel, effectively removing a parent from the Children's lives without any reasonable justification.

Issue No. 2: AJ Respondent clearly abused his discretion when rendering temporary orders on January 22nd, 2024, for the temporary conservatorship of the Children and preservation of property without notice and hearing, naming Mother primary joint conservator of the Children and awarding Mother the sole use of the residency despite no factual basis existing to do so after she failed to obtain legal Counsel in time for the hearing.

Issue No. 3: The AJ Respondent further demonstrated an abuse of discretion by issuing temporary orders effective until the final divorce decree on March 26th, 2024. These orders were predicated on an agreed associate judge's report that was substantively void, failing to fulfill the procedural standards which the AJ Respondent had previously ratified, and that had no foundational basis in law or fact and egregiously overlooked the welfare and best interests of the Children.

PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDAMUS

TO THE HONORABLE JUSTICES OF THE SECOND COURT OF APPEALS:

Relator C.D.M., (“Father”) submits this Petition for Writ of Mandamus, and as grounds, therefore, would show as follows:

I.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

A. Between December 14th, 2023, and December 27th, 2023, the Mother filed for two protective orders, a divorce, and influenced an eviction suit - each of them claiming family violence.

On December 14th, 2023, Mother requested an emergency ex-parte order of protection from DJ Respondent.¹

On December 17th, 2023, the Mother’s grandmother served the Realtor with an eviction notice citing a yet to be filed divorce petition and protective order. On December 18th, 2024, the Mother wrote “VOID” on the notice in black ink and physically tore it in half. App 1-2.

On December 18th, 2023, The Mother filed for divorce waiving the 60-day waiting period claiming that an active order of protection was active against the Father.App. 11.

On December 22nd, 2023, the Mother filed for a Protective Order against the Father despite getting denied an emergency protective order on December 14th, 2024.App. 15-21.

On December 27th, 2023, The ex-parte protective order was filed with the Court against the Father, indicating a denial based on the “Xs” marked over the pages.App. 22-25.

On December 28th, 2023, the Father was served with the Eviction suit initiated by the Mother’s grandparents.App. 26. A third ex-parte protective order was filed with the Court also containing “Xs” marked across the pages.App. 27-30.

B. Between January 2nd, 2024, and the initial Show Cause hearing scheduled for January 16th, 2024, the Father prepared his defense to address the baseless allegations of family violence made against him.²

² At the time of this filing, not one document has been filed corroborating the claims made by the Mother or her Counsel regarding family violence.

On January 2nd, 2024, Father filed his answer to the protective order.App. 31-35. The answer was accompanied by the Father's criminal record from the Texas Department of Public Safety, marked as EXHIBIT B.App. 36-37.

On January 3rd, 2024, Father filed a motion to consolidate for judicial efficiency.App. 38-41. Father's motion to consolidate was accompanied by his Background Report for Case Consolidation.App. 42-43.

On January 8th, 2024, the Father filed a motion for continuance.App. 44-46. The Father's motion for continuance was filed with a brief attached, explaining that he had been focusing on the Children's holidays and school vacation while simultaneously battling concurrent litigation by the Mother and landlords, and was requesting the continuance to allow more time to prepare given these circumstances.App. 47-49.

C. On January 16th, 2024, the Father was ordered to vacate the family home and place of business on four hours' notice, and full custody was awarded to the Mother.

On January 16th, 2024, the Father was ordered to vacate his home without due process, and despite the Father's motion for continuance being granted alongside his motion for consolidation, this decision was made without any witnesses being called and before the Father could obtain legal Counsel and the hearing was re-scheduled for January 22nd, 2024.App. 50-51.

On the evening of January 16th, 2024, Father filed his Counterpetition for DivorceApp. 52-61, accompanied by a comprehensive statement of context to provide insights into the case, detailing the situation, and outline the evidence the Father would present at the reset hearing on January 22nd, 2024.App. 62-67. Father also filed an unsworn declaration to shed light on the conspiratorial nature of the collective actions taken against him by the Mother and her family.App. 68-71.

D. After being removed from his home, the Father attended the eviction hearing and prevailed on January 17th, 2024.

On January 17th, 2024, less than 24 hours after being ordered to vacate the residence, the Father attended the eviction hearing at Justice of the Peace 1 in Fort Worth, Texas, where he prevailed for lack of jurisdiction.App. 72.

On January 19th, 2024, Father retained Counsel.

On January 19th, 2024, Father retained Counsel to advocate on his Children's behalf and represent his interests.SApp. 2.

E. Mother's failure to acquire counsel in time for the reset hearing resulted in further delays on January 22nd, 2024, due to AJ Respondent granting her continuance.

On January 22nd, 2024, after Father acquired Counsel and attending the reset hearing, Mother failed to acquire representation until minutes before the hearing started to which a continuance was requested and subsequently granted, causing further delays in the proceedings, and prompting yet another reset for February 1st, 2024.App. 73-74.

F. At the next hearing on February 1st, 2024, Father's Counsel drafted an Associate Judge's Agreed Report, and part of this agreement, Mother dropped the protective order suit against the Father while granting him temporary relief until March 1st.

On February 1st, 2024, the hearing was usurped by Father's Counsel and was suddenly focused on the drafting of an Associate Judge's ReportApp. 75-80 with the addition of temporary child support to be paid by the FatherApp. 76 rather than holding a hearing to discuss the issues that were directly communicated via email leading up to the hearing.SApp 3-7. The last page of the orders had specific procedural requirements that were part of the order that stated:

"A typed written Order conforming to this Report will follow within 20 days from the date this Report is signed. The Temporary Order shall be prepared by Dan Bacalis³. Each attorney should approve the Order. The parties do not need to approve the Order. The attorney reviewing the proposed Order shall have five (5) days to do so. There are no ten (10) day letters. If an agreement is not reached, a Motion to Sign shall be filed and set within thirty (30) days from the signing of this Report."App. 79.

The agreement allowed the Father back into the family home so he could work and regain his active role in his Children's lives until March 1st App. 77 while simultaneously removing the Children from their own home until the same date and dropping the protective order suit initiated by the Mother which had been the basis for every decision leading up to this point in the case.App. 77.

G. Father terminated the services of his legal Counsel on February 5th, 2024.

On February 5th, 2024, Father's Counsel was terminated due to ineffective representation, and a notice was promptly filed with the Court.App. 81-83. SApp. 8.

On February 6th, 2024, an agreed motion for withdrawal of attorney was signed by the Father and his Counsel and filed with the Court. App. 84-87.

H. On February 9th, 2024, Father filed his emergency motion to reconsider / vacate temporary orders.

The Father filed his motion to reconsider evidence and vacate temporary ordersApp. 88-90, accompanied by a detailed brief which aimed to challenge the overall foundation of the case and bring to light the procedural missteps and re-focus the case on the Children's best interests.App. 91-98.

I. The Order for Withdrawal of Attorney was rendered and served to all parties on February 12th, 2024.

On February 12th, 2024, the Order for Withdrawal of Attorney was filed with the Clerk containing AJ Respondent's signature dated February 8th, 2024, which stated that the Court found no pending settings or deadlines within the case.App. 99-101.*

J. On February 13th, 2024, Father communicated with Mother's Counsel regarding the scheduling of the reconsideration motion.

On February 13th, 2024, Father reached out via email to Mother's counsel regarding the scheduling of the reconsideration motion, where she claimed that she would have availability nearly a month later, and also claimed that she would be filing a counter-motion.⁴App 15.

K. The Father moved for a Partial Summary Judgement on February 22nd, 2024.

On February 22nd, 2024, Father filed a Motion for Partial Summary Judgement after no counter-motion was filed by Mother's Counsel with an accompanying brief to argue that the evidence and procedural history presented in the case clearly favor his position, demonstrating that the actions taken against him were not supported by the substantive facts of the case or in the best interest of the children, eliminating the need for a hearing regarding the reconsideration motion.App. 102-111. The Father's proposed parenting plan was attached to the motion as EXHIBIT D.App. 112-115.

⁴ This counter motion was never filed.

L. On February 27th, a Notice of Hearing was served regarding Father's Reconsideration Motion.

On February 27th, a Notice of Hearing was served on all Parties scheduled for March 14th, 2024, on Father's reconsideration Motion. App. 116-117.

M. Father filed an Unsworn Declaration with the Court on March 3rd, 2024.

On March 3rd, 2024, Father filed a Notice and unsworn declaration with the Court explaining he would be unable to vacate the home by March 1st, as the Mother's employment had changed, and that it would not be in the Children's best interest. App. 118-121.

N. Father and Mother attended the reconsideration hearing on March 14th, 2024.

On March 14th, 2024, Minutes before the hearing, Mother's Counsel hands the Father the agreed orders reduced to writing in the Courtroom, which differed from the original agreed orders signed on February 1st, 2024, such as the Father requiring to vacate the home by March 20th, rather than March 1st, and the Mother and Children being allowed to return on the 30th, not the 1st, which left a 10-day gap where neither party would be occupying the residence.SApp. 16. Father's reconsideration motion was denied.App. 122.

0. Father filed a Notice of Judicial Review With the Court on March 26th, 2024.

On March 26th, 2024, Father filed his Second Amended Notice of Judicial ReviewApp. 123-171 that contains familial background history.App.132 as well as employment history and family dynamics.App. 133-140. This review also contains a statement of facts with several linked documents embedded within the filing that reiterate many facts brought forth within this mandamus petition.App.141-150. Most critically, the Respondent's Parental Index within the document highlights the Father's pivotal role in the Children's lives throughout these proceedings.App.151-154.
SApp. 17-55.

This document also contains sworn statements from the Father's business clients that was offered at the hearing on March 14th, 2024, corroborating the Father's active involvement in the Children's lives, work ethic, and history working out of the family residence.App.172-187.

P. On March 26th, 2024, the Agreed Associate Judge's Report was reduced to writing and became Temporary Orders, and was served on the parties.

On March 26th, 2024, the judgement and denial of Father's reconsideration motion was filed with the Clerk and served on the parties, rendering the current temporary orders App. 188-226 effective until the signing of the final decree of divorce. App 224.

II.

SUMMARY OF THE ARGUMENT

DJ Respondent abused his discretion when naming the Mother primary managing conservator of the children before any witnesses could be called or any evidence could be presented by the Father, disregarding TEX FAM. CODE 105.001(b) which clearly states, “an order may not be rendered under Subsection (a)(1), (2), or (5) except after notice and a hearing.”. In light of these facts, by DJ Respondent naming the Mother primary managing conservator of the Children, which falls under TEX. FAM CODE 105.001(a)(1), he clearly abused his discretion.

AJ Respondent abused his discretion on January 22nd, 2024, when DJ Respondent's orders expired, and AJ Respondent rendered temporary orders for the temporary conservatorship of the Children and excluding the Father from the residence without notice and hearing due to the Mother's inability to hire counsel until just minutes prior to the reset hearing. “[A]n order may not be rendered under Subsection (a)(1), (2), or (5) except after notice and a hearing.”. TEX FAM. CODE 105.001(b)

AJ Respondent also clearly abused his discretion when signing the Agreed Associate Judge's Report on February 1st, 2024, drafted by Father's attorney for “the temporary conservatorship of the children” FAM CODE § 105.001(a)(1) , and “for the temporary support of the children” TEX. FAM CODE § 105.001(a)(2) when such an order “may not be rendered...before notice and hearing.” TEX FAM. CODE 105.001(b)

Furthermore, AJ Respondent abused his discretion when entering the temporary orders after notice and hearing despite them failing to meet the procedural requirements ordered in the Agreed Associate Judge's Report that he previously signed. The Report was reduced to writing by Mother's Counsel just minutes before the reconsideration hearing on March 14th, 2024, and were filed as Temporary Orders with the Clerk of the court on March 26th, 2024. The only witness called in this case was the Mother during the reconsideration hearing for the purpose of obtaining legal fees. The documents filed within this case will show that both Respondent's determinations are made on no factual basis and the Children's best interests have been ignored outright, and hinge on a misapplication of law.

III.

ARGUMENT

A. AVAILABILITY OF MANDAMUS RELIEF

Mandamus is an appropriate remedy for a parent to attack the issuance of temporary orders in a custody proceeding, since such orders are not subject to interlocutory appeal. Dancy v. Daggett, 815 S.W.2d 548, 549 (Tex. 1991) (per curiam).

A writ of mandamus is the correct recourse when the trial court exhibits an abuse of discretion and there is no other adequate legal remedy available, such as an appeal. In re Prudential Insurance Company of America, 148 S.W.3d 124, 135-36 (Tex. 2004)

Furthermore, conservatorship determinations made after a bench trial are "subject to review only for abuse of discretion and may be reversed only if the decision is arbitrary and unreasonable."

In re J.A.J., 243 S.W.3d 611, 616 (Tex. 2007) quoting Gillespie v. Gillespie, 644 S.W.2d 449, 451(Tex. 1982)

B. Issue No. 1

DJ Respondent erred in rendering temporary orders affecting the parent-child relationship and for the preservation of the property without notice and hearing and did not consider the Children's best interests.

The Texas Family Code provides that "after notice and hearing, the court may render an appropriate order, including the granting of a temporary injunction for the preservation of the property and protection of the parties as deemed necessary and equitable." Id § 6.502(a).

DJ Respondent abused his discretion by awarding the mother temporary primary conservatorship of the Children and sole occupancy of the residency before any witnesses were called or evidence presented, despite granting a continuance for the parties to acquire legal representation and resetting the case for January 22nd, 2024. App. 77.

1. The initial child custody determinations did not consider the children's best interests.

On January 16th, 2024, this significant decision was made, effectively removing one parent from the Children's lives, and introducing instability without any consideration of the Children's best interests when "the best interest[s] of the child[ren] shall always be the primary consideration in determining conservatorship, possession of, and access to the child[ren]." Id. § 153.002. The fact that the Father requires the residency for his at-home business, and given that such a business would take time to transition to an alternative residency, the DJ Respondent erred in not taking these facts into consideration when "[s]uits affecting the parent-child relationship are 'intensely fact-driven' and require courts to balance many factors." Billisits v. Billisits, No. 03-21-00358-CV, 2023 WL 2191330, at *2 (Tex. App.-Austin Feb. 24, 2023, no pet.) (mem. op.).

C. Issue No. 2

AJ Respondent abused his discretion when rendering temporary orders affecting the parent-child relationship without notice and hearing.

On January 22nd, DJ Respondent's orders reset, and when Father and Mother made their appearance, the Mother failed to acquire legal representation until just minutes before the scheduled hearing, which delayed the proceedings until February 1st, 2024. App. 79. This resulted in an Associate Judge's Report being rendered that awarded the mother primary conservatorship of the Children and sole use of the residency once again without any witnesses being called, or evidence being presented by the parties, and once again overlooking the Children's best interests. The Father was in direct communication with his Counsel and wanted to reiterate key points and concerns prior to the next hearing which were never addressed. SApp 3-7.

D. Issue No. 3

AJ Respondent abused his discretion further when approving the reduction of an Agreed Associate Judge's Report to writing despite the orders not meeting their procedural requirements and not being in the Children's best interests.

On February 1st, 2024, the parties attended the second reset hearing, where Counsel began negotiations and drafted an Agreed Associate Judge's Report giving father temporary relief back into the family home until March 1st, 2024 App. 120, but keeping the mother as the primary conservator.App. 118. This outcome raised significant questions about the adequacy of Father's Counsel's advocacy on behalf of the children, especially considering no additional facts were presented by the Mother to justify the decision rendered in the Agreed Report.App. 122. Given that temporary relief was given to the Father, he signed the agreement and subsequently terminated his legal representation on February 5th, 2024SApp. 8 and filed a notice with the court for ineffective representation.App. 111-112.

- 1. After terminating his representation, Father filed for a motion to reconsider challenging the foundational basis for the agreed report signed on February 1st, 2024.

On February 9th, Father filed an emergency motion to reconsider evidence and to vacate temporary orders.App. 127-130. Attached with this motion was a brief and exhibits explaining the issues.App. 131-156. A hearing was not set on this motion until over a month later on March 14th, 2024App. 189, as opposing Counsel stated that was her only available timeframe despite not filing any response, objections, or conducting any due diligence between February 9th, 2024 and March 14th, 2024.SApp. 15.

2. Father's motion to reconsider evidence and vacate temporary orders was denied by AJ Respondent and evidence was not allowed to be admitted.

On March 14th, 2024, AJ Respondent denied Father's motion for reconsideration after only one witness was called (the Mother) who testified for the sole purpose of collecting attorney's fees, and while providing no evidence or testimony providing any insight into the Children's well-being or best interests.App. 245. The Father offered several affidavits from his business clients corroborating his claims about needing residency to work from home, which were not admitted into evidence which would have shown his dedication to his work, and Children.App. 246-261.

3. Father added the refused affidavits to the clerk's record via a notice of judicial review.

The Father filed these affidavits in accordance with his Second Amended Prepatory Notice for Judicial Review filed on March 26, 2024.App. 196, which contains familial backgroundApp. 205, family dynamics and employment historyApp. 206-213, the "Respondent's Parental Index" with links showing Father's close relationship with the Children leading up to court intervention and during the proceedingsApp. 224-227, and his efforts in these matters regarding the zealous advocation for the best interests of his Children.App. 228-230.

4. On March 26th, 2024, AJ Respondent rendered Temporary Orders that would remain until the final decree of divorce was signed.

The agreement, executed by all parties and their Counsel on February 1st, 2024, outlined specific obligations.App. 122.

The failure to meet the agreement's requirements was prominently addressed during the oral argument on March 14th.⁵ Despite this, the orders, hastily reduced to writing that same day and not conforming to the agreed-upon requirements, were not issued until March 26th, 2024-significantly later than the 20-days stipulatedApp 122. This resulted in the final orders being issued without the necessary signatures from the Father or his preceding Counsel and still failing to be based on any pertinent facts related to the Children's best interests.App. 299.

⁵ No court reporter was available for the hearing, so no transcript was made of the oral arguments.

5. The Children's best interests have been starkly overlooked by all parties in the case outside of the Father.

Had just one of the eight factors outlined in the long-dated case of Holly v. Adams 544 S.W.2d 367 (1976) been applied to the decisions made within this case, the trial court would have not erroneously severed an active and loving father from his Children's lives and would not have removed the Father from his residency that he needs to provide for the Children without notice and hearing on multiple occasions.

Throughout these proceedings - the clerk's record will clearly show continuous efforts from the Father to advocate for his Children's best interests, and the lack thereof by Counsel and both Respondents, entitling the Father to immediate relief via mandamus, as his burden to show an abuse of discretion, which is to "show that the trial court acted in an arbitrary or unreasonable manner, or without regard to guiding principles of law." Billisits v. Billisits, No. 03-21-00358-CV, 2023 WL 2191330 (Tex. App.-Austin Feb. 24, 2023) (mem. op.), can be met by simply looking at the face of the clerk's record.

IV.CONCLUSION

The initial decision by DJ Respondent laid a flawed foundation, affecting all later decisions and disregarding the children's best interests. AJ Respondent's actions of exacerbating and the drafting of an agreed order by incompetent counsel merely perpetuated these errors, using the father's pursuit of relief as leverage. This process effectively excluded a dedicated parent from his children's lives, only to conditionally re-admit him, while simultaneously allowing the Mother to temporarily remove them from their own home. This cascade of decisions represents a stark abuse of judicial discretion and a failure of legal duty, highlighting the urgent need for rectification to uphold the integrity of the family law system and protect the children's welfare. The benefits of the Father's restoration to the family home and place of business, and the restoration to his daughter's lives outweighs the effects put on the Mother, as her actions have disregarded the Children's best interests and have casted a long shadow on their future as the current situation stands.

PRAYER

Due to the reasons outlined above, the realtor respectfully requests that this writ of mandamus be granted by the Realtor, alongside the temporary relief sought. Restoring the status quo ante and refocusing the case on the best interest of the Children.

Respectfully submitted,

Charles Dustin Myers

Relator notes the absence of a court-reported record for this case, significantly hindering the ability to provide a verbatim transcript of proceedings crucial to this mandamus action. Notably, the only witness called during these proceedings was the mother, primarily for securing legal fees for the March 14th motion for reconsideration. This unique circumstance, compounded by the lack of a court reporter, accentuates the need for the Court's detailed review of the attached appendix. This appendix, containing all relevant documents filed in compliance with statutory requirements and unopposed to date, forms the core evidence for the Court's consideration. Despite these procedural anomalies, the Relator believes the submitted documents will sufficiently support the Petition for Writ of Mandamus.

Despite the absence of an official hearing record, the Relator has diligently filed all pertinent documents and evidence with the court within the statutory deadlines. It is important to note that, as of this time, no opposition or objections have been raised against any of the documents filed with the clerk.

5. In lieu of the official record, and to support the arguments presented in this mandamus action, the Relator will rely on the appendix of relevant documents attached to the mandamus petition. This appendix includes comprehensive documentation that has been filed in accordance with statutory requirements and remains unchallenged. The inclusion of these documents is intended to provide the Court with a thorough understanding of the basis upon which the Relator seeks relief through this Petition for Writ of Mandamus.

B. BACKGROUND

7. Mother filed for an ex-parte protective order against the father on December 14th, 2023, which was denied by the court.App. 22-25.

8. Mother influenced an eviction suit against the Father by informing the landlords that she was filing for divorce and would be seeking a protective order against the Father, which was initiated on December 17th, 2023.App. 1-2.

9. Mother filed for a Divorce on December 18th, 2023,App. 3-14 alleging an active order of protection against the father, waiving the 60-day waiting period.App. 11.

10. Mother filed for an order of protection against the Father on December 22nd, 2023App. 15-21, where she claimed threats of violence and sexual harassment by the Father.App. 21.

11. Between December 27th, when father was served the Protective order,App. 15 and January 16th, the scheduled show cause hearing for Father to show why the protective order should not be granted, he filed his answer to the protective orderApp. 31-35, accompanied with his Texas Department of Public Safety record which is void of any charges.App. 36-37, as well as a motion to consolidate,App. 38-41 a background report for case consolidation,App. 42-43, a motion of continuanceApp. 44-46 with an attached brief explaining that he had been focusing on the Children during the holiday season and school break while battling concurrent litigation initiated by the Mother and would need more time to prepare for the upcoming show cause hearing.App. 47-49.

12. Despite the Respondent's submissions, when the Father and Mother attended the show cause hearing, Father was ordered out of the family residence with scant notice and without any witnesses being called or evidence being discussed, which significantly disrupted the lives of the Children and the Father's business operations and would be re-scheduled for January 22nd, 2024 to allow for the parties to obtain counsel.App. 50.

13. On the evening of January 16th, 2024, Father filed his Counterpetition for DivorceApp. 52-61, accompanied by a comprehensive statement of context to provide insights into the case, detailing the situation, and outline the evidence the Father would present at the reset hearing on January 22nd, 2024 .App.

62-67. Father also filed an unsworn declaration to shed light on the conspiratorial nature of the collective actions taken against him by the Mother and her family.App. 68-71.

14. Father prevailed against the eviction suit on January 14th, 2024, for lack of jurisdiction.App. 72.

15. Father obtained Counsel on January 19th, 2024.

16. Considering that Father was already suffering damage at this point, he communicated clearly with his Counsel about his concerns and desires for the upcoming reset hearing on January 22nd, 2024.

17. At the reset hearing, Mother failed to acquire legal counsel until just minutes before the hearing was scheduled to start, and subsequently requested a continuance, which was granted and reset the case to February 1st, 2024.App. 73.

18. Between January 22nd and February 1st, the Father communicated several times with his Counsel reiterating the details of the case, his desires, and the relief sought.

19. On February 1st, 2024, the hearing was usurped by Father's Counsel and was suddenly focused on the drafting of an Associate Judge's ReportApp. 75-80 with the addition of temporary child support to be paid by the FatherApp. 76 rather than holding a hearing to discuss the issues that were directly communicated via email leading up to the hearing. The last page of the orders had specific procedural requirements that were part of the order that stated:

"A typed written Order conforming to this Report will follow within 20 days from the date this Report is signed. The Temporary Order shall be prepared by Dan Bacalis¹.

Each attorney should approve the Order. The parties do not need to approve the Order. The attorney reviewing the proposed Order shall have five (5) days to do so. There are no ten (10) day letters. If an agreement is not reached, a Motion to Sign shall be filed and set within thirty (30) days from the signing of this Report."App. 79.

¹ Dan Bacalis was terminated on February 5th, 2024, by the Father, making these procedural stipulations outlined in the order arguably impossible to satisfy without modification.

20. The agreement allowed the Father back into the family home so he could work and regain his active role in his Children's lives until March 1st App. 77 while simultaneously removing the Children from their own home until the same date and dropping the protective order suit initiated by the Mother which had been the basis for every decision leading up to this point in the case.App. 77.

21. On February 5th, 2024, Father's Counsel was terminated due to ineffective representation, and a notice was promptly filed with the Court.App. 81-83.

22. On February 6th, 2024, an agreed motion for withdrawal of attorney was signed by the Father and his Counsel and filed with the Court. App. 84-87.

23. The Father filed his motion to reconsider evidence and vacate temporary orders on February 9th, 2024, App. 88-90, accompanied by a detailed brief which aimed to challenge the overall foundation of the case and bring to light the procedural missteps and re-focus the case on the Children's best interests.App. 91-98.

24. On February 12th, 2024, the Order for Withdrawal of Attorney was filed with the Clerk containing AJ Respondent's signature dated February 8th, 2024, which stated that the Court found no pending settings or deadlines within the case.App. 99-101.

25. On February 13th, 2024, Father reached out via email to Mother's counsel regarding the scheduling of the reconsideration motion, where she claimed that she would have availability nearly a month later, and also claimed that she would be filing a countermotion.²

26. On February 22nd, 2024, Father filed a Motion for Partial Summary Judgement after no counter-motion was filed by Mother's Counsel with an accompanying brief to argue that the evidence and procedural history presented in the case clearly favor his position, demonstrating that the actions taken against him were not supported by the substantive facts of the case or in the best interest of the children, eliminating the need for a hearing regarding the reconsideration motion.App. 102-111. The Father's proposed parenting plan was attached to the motion as EXHIBIT D.App. 112-115.

² This counter motion was never filed.

27. On February 27th, a Notice of Hearing was served on all Parties scheduled for March 14th, 2024, on Father's reconsideration Motion.App. 116-117.

28. On March 3rd, 2024, Father filed a Notice and unsworn declaration with the Court explaining he would be unable to vacate the home by March 1st, as the Mother's employment had changed, and that it would not be in the Children's best interest.App. 118-121.

29. On March 14th, 2024, Minutes before the hearing, Mother's Counsel hands the Father the agreed orders reduced to writing in the Courtroom, which differed from the original agreed orders signed on February 1st, 2024, such as the Father requiring to vacate the home by March 20th, rather than March 1st, and the Mother and Children being allowed to return on the 30th, not the 1st, which left a 10-day gap where neither party would be occupying the residence.App 215. Father's reconsideration motion was denied on March 14th, 2024.App. 122.

30. On March 26th, 2024, Father filed his Second Amended Notice of Judicial ReviewApp. 123-171 that contains familial background history.App. 132 as well as employment history and family dynamics.App. 133-140. This review also contains a statement of facts with several linked documents embedded within the filing that reiterate many facts brought forth within the mandamus petition.App.141-150. The Respondent's Parental Index within the document highlights the Father's pivotal role in the Children's lives throughout these proceedingsApp.151-154 which have been redacted for privacy considerations from this motion and petition for mandamus but aren't needed to meet the Relator's burden for relief.

31. This document also contains sworn statements from the Father's business clients that was offered at the hearing on March 14th, 2024, corroborating the Father's active involvement in the Children's lives, work ethic, and history working out of the family residence.App.172-187.

32. This mandamus relief seeks to stay the orders in effect until the final decree of divorce. App.188-226.

C. ARGUMENT

I. Availability of Mandamus Relief

Mandamus relief is available when the Court abuses its discretion and there is no adequate remedy at law, such as by appeal. In re Prudential Ins. Co., 148 S.W.3d 124, 135-36 (Tex. 2004) (orig. proceeding). A trial court has no discretion in determining what the law is or applying the law to the facts. Walker v. Packer, 827 S.W.2d 833, 840 (Tex. 1992) (orig. proceeding).

The Court may grant temporary relief pending its determination of an original proceeding. Tex. R. App. P. 52.10(b)

Because a Trial Court's temporary orders are not appealable, mandamus is the appropriate means to challenge them. See Little v. Daggett, 858 S.W.2d 368 (Tex. 1993) (orig. proceeding)).

II. The Children's best interests were overlooked entirely.

The decision to disconnect the father from his children starkly illustrates judicial oversight, further exacerbated by the Father's need to represent himself pro se due to inadequate legal representation previously.

By excluding the Father from his operational base, the court not only removed a daily caregiver but also destabilized the primary financial support system for the Mother and the Children.

This decision seemingly overlooks the comprehensive framework intended to guide judicial discretion in such matters, a framework well-established in the seminal case of Holley v. Adams, 544 S.W.2d 367 (1976). The Holley decision articulates a non-exhaustive set of factors specifically designed to assist courts in ascertaining the best interest of the child, encompassing considerations such as the emotional and physical needs of the child, the parental abilities of the individual's seeking custody, and the stability of the home environment, among others.

The court is also required by law when rendering temporary orders affecting conservatorship under TEX. FAM. CODE § 105.001(b) to provide notice or hearing, which was not provided to the Father until March 14th, 2024 during his reconsideration hearing, after suffering for nearly two months, where the AJ Respondent refused to look at any of the record prior to the signed agreed associate judge's report on February 1st, 2024, and refused to admit the Father's affidavits from his clients into evidence showing the need for his residency, and corroborating his close relationship with his Children.

By removing a Father from his Children's lives, impairing his ability to provide for them, and subsequently upholding this decision without any foundational basis to do so is a manifest injustice against the Father and his Children, as "[s]uits affecting the parent-child relationship are 'intensely fact-driven' and require courts to balance many factors." Billisits v. Billisits, No.03-

21-00358-CV, 2023 WL 2191330, at *2 (Tex. App.-Austin Feb. 24, 2023, no pet.) (mem. op.)

Relator seeks a stay in the proceedings of the trial court, including the Temporary Orders rendered on March 26th, 2024, pending this Court's determination on Relator's Petition for Writ of Mandamus. Failure to grant a stay could further exacerbate the damage caused to the Children's emotional well-being and will directly impact their ability to be provided for, as the Relator works out of his home and would need sufficient time to transition his services to a new residency while the case is pending. Because the trial court entered these orders until the final decree of divorce is signed, the Relator seeks a stay from this Court in the interest of justice and in support of the Children's best interests.

III. The Pervasive Procedural Errors Undermining the Foundational Integrity of the Judicial Proceedings and Nullifying the Enforceability of the Orders Issued

According to the Texas Family Code, if the 60-day waiting period is waived due to an active order of protection, "[t]he petitioner shall attach to the petition a copy of each order...regarding the conduct alleged in the application or order without regard to the date of the order. If a copy of the order is not available at the time of filing, the petition must state that a copy of the order will be filed with the court before any hearing." Id § 6.405(b). The fact that the Mother elected to waive the 60-day waiting period, and due to the fact no such order of protection ever existed against the Father, no hearing should have ever taken place in this case as a copy of the non-existent order was never filed with the court, which is a requirement before any hearing.

2. The orders rendered on March 26th fell outside of the procedural requirements.

The Temporary Orders rendered on March 26th failed to meet the procedural requirements outlined in them, which specifically stated:

"A typed written Order conforming to this Report will follow within 20 days from the date this Report is signed. The Temporary Order shall be prepared by Dan Bacalis. Each attorney should approve the Order. The parties do not need to approve the Order. The attorney reviewing the proposed Order shall have five (5) days to do so. There are no ten (10) day letters. If an agreement is not reached, a Motion to Sign shall be filed and set within thirty (30) days from the signing of this Report."App. 79.

The procedural integrity of court orders is paramount to ensure that the administration of justice is carried out with the highest degree of legitimacy and fairness. On March 26th, these Temporary Orders were rendered which fundamentally breached the explicit procedural mandates set forth within them. The underpinning of this procedural breach rests on two critical junctures: the preparation of the order and the time frames for review and filing subsequent to disagreement.

3. Dan Bacalis was terminated and did not reduce the orders to writing.

Firstly, the necessity for a typed written Order to be prepared by Dan Bacalis is unambiguously stated. This task, assigned to Mr. Bacalis, is not merely a formality, but a substantial procedural requirement, implying his unique role and input in the process. The preparation of the order by any individual other than Dan Bacalis, therefore, violates the stipulated procedural requirement, rendering the resultant orders intrinsically flawed and devoid of legitimacy.

Further compromising the orders' validity is the departure of Dan Bacalis from his position prior to this critical task being completed. Since the procedural directive was unequivocally tied to his participation, his premature termination disrupted the process and invalidated the subsequent steps taken in his absence. As such, there was a failure in compliance with the foundational requirements, and any order produced thereafter lacks the requisite procedural lineage to be enforceable.

4. The reviewing counsel did not comply with the time constraints in any aspect.

Secondly, the timeframes established by the procedural requirements are strict and serve as an essential mechanism to maintain order and predictability in legal proceedings. The attorney reviewing the proposed order was accorded a five-day window to do so. This period is designed to facilitate swift and efficient agreement or identification of disagreements. In this case, the reviewing attorney, Cooper Carter, failed to reach an agreement within the prescribed timeframe.

The protocol following such a failure is equally clear: "should no agreement be reached, a Motion to Sign must be filed and set within thirty days from the signing of the report." Id.

This step is not an optional or discretionary act but a mandatory one to progress the matter in the absence of consensus. The inaction to file and set the motion within this allotted time further erodes the procedural validity of the orders.

Moreover, the preparation of the typed written order by Cooper Carter, substituting for Dan Bacalis, 43 days after the signing of the report, transgresses the specified procedural timeframe. This delay not only disregards the explicit 20-day guideline but also surpasses the 30-day window for setting a Motion to Sign in the event of a lack of agreement. This protraction and procedural noncompliance serve to nullify the legal force of the orders.

Given these clear procedural deviations, the orders rendered on March 26th are procedurally deficient. They do not embody the integrity and binding force expected of court mandates. Consequently, these orders must be regarded as void ab initio – without legal effect from the outset – as they were not produced in accordance with the mandated procedures that are fundamental for their validity. The court should, therefore, deem the orders of March 26th null and void. "The majority observes that mandamus is also proper when a trial court acts without jurisdiction and issues a void order." In re State, 159 S.W.3d 203 (Tex. App. 2005)

D. CONCLUSION

According to "In re Marriage of Burgess, 13 Cal.4th 25, 40 (Cal. 1996)," an initial judicial custody determination requires a comprehensive assessment of all relevant factors, including each parent's relationship with the child, which wasn't considered in this case. A thorough application of this factor or any of the Holley was absent throughout this case after three months of litigation.

In guiding this Honorable Court's decision to grant this emergency relief pending the decision for Relator's Petition of Mandamus, balancing the benefits versus the detriments as noted unquestionably tips the scales in the Relator's favor. In re Rocket, 256 S.W.3d 257, 262 (Tex. 2008) ("The adequacy of an appellate remedy must be determined by balancing the benefits of mandamus review against the detriments.")

"In evaluating benefits and detriments, we consider whether mandamus will preserve important substantive and procedural rights from impairment or loss" Id. "We therefore conclude that in this case the benefits of mandamus outweigh the detriments and find relators do not have an adequate remedy by appeal." In re Energy Res. Tech. Gom, Inc., NO. 14-12-00835-CV (Tex. App. Oct 04, 2012)

Granting this relief would profoundly benefit the children by bringing back an active and involved parent into their daily lives, thereby ensuring their emotional and future stability. It would enable the Father to regain access to his home and business, supporting a seamless transition to another nearby residence.

The opposition to this relief, based on the Mother's preference not to cohabit with the father, overlooks a practical solution. Given the proximity of alternative accommodations, such as the grandparents' home next door or other properties available to her, the Mother has viable options to consider during the Father's transition period. This arrangement significantly benefits the Children by maintaining their familial and emotional support systems, which are crucial for their well-being. It is a logical and sensible approach that prioritizes the Children's best interests now and in the future.

PRAYER

For the reasons stated in this motion, Relator asks the Court for an emergency stay of the proceedings, including the Temporary Orders rendered on March 26th, 2024, to consider the merits of the Relator's original proceeding, to protect the rights of the Father, and to preserve the Children's best interests now and in the future.
